Understanding how ecological interactions affect long term evolutionary patterns has been a difficult task in biological studies. My research focuses on using big data and new bioinformatic approaches for understanding these links, both with tightly coevolved taxa and more broad scale communities of organisms.

JULIE ALLEN
Postdoctoral Researcher
Illinois Natural History Survey
University of Illinois
www.juliamallen.com

Parking Notice: Lot E-46 is a UIUC campus parking lot. Campus parking permits for lots north of Kirby/Florida work in E-46. Visitors may park in metered parking.

The Illinois Natural History Survey seminar series is organized by the INHS Seminar Committee.